

Healing the Red Thread

A four-part shamanic exploration of ancestral healing facilitated by Debra Morrill

We are the bones of our ancestors, and their blood runs in our veins. We inherit an energetic legacy from those who came before us – both their gifts and strength and also their unhealed wounds and unfinished business. By working in a shamanic space with the support of the helping spirits, we identify dysfunctional patterns, track to the source, and do healing for the ancestor who experienced the original wound. The healing transforms the family energy system and ripples out in all directions to the ancestors, the current generations, and even the generations yet to come, enabling the lineage to move into a greater place of balance and harmony. This experiential workshop meets four weekends over one year at a retreat center near Dodgeville, WI. This is an intermediate level class – prior shamanic experience required.

- May 5-7, 2023 • Connecting to the Ancestors
- August 25-27, 2023 • Clearing Family Patterns
- November 10-12, 2023 • Releasing Heavy Energy
- February 9-11, 2024 • Coming Home

Each weekend begins on Friday afternoon with opening circle at 3 pm and runs through Sunday afternoon with closing circle at 4 pm. Saturday evening is typically used for ceremony.

Cost per weekend:

$635 Private room in main building
$615 Private room in separate building
$570 Non-residential

To register: please contact Debra Morrill directly at 608-279-4319 or email debramorrill6@icloud.com to receive a full class description and application for the program. Once you have completed the interview process with Debra, you can complete your registration with The Hollow Bone.

About the facilitator: Debra Morrill has a shamanic healing practice in the Baraboo, WI, area since 2005. She specializes in ancestral healing, compassionate deposal, and tools for empaths.